GeneaMap

Family trees in your community's own words

Every family has its own words for kin.

Draw a family tree with elders, and every card can show what that person is to you – দেউতা, পেহী, খুড়া – in the terms your community actually uses.

A sample family in Kinship view, seen from Ankur, with the Assamese starter list

READING THE CARDS

ককা	koka · grandfather
আইতা	aita · grandmother
দেউতা	deuta · father
মা	ma · mother
পেহী	pehi · father's sister
খুড়া	khura · father's younger brother
ভনী	bhoni · younger sister
ককাই	kokai · elder cousin brother

01

Checked with elders

Assamese and Bengali starter lists to correct, and the means to build Bishnupriya Manipuri or any other. Elder and younger are told apart.

02

The details that matter

Photos, names in other scripts, clan or lineage, craft or occupation, birth order and the source of each fact. A finder explains how any two people are related.

03

Private and lasting

Works offline and uploads nothing. Daily earlier versions, saved files, PNG images and GEDCOM with photos for any genealogy program.

USE IT FOR

Recording family histories with elders · Lineages of satra, priestly and craft families · School oral-history projects · Reconnecting families who moved away · Saving kinship words before they fade

Map a family with us.

Free for heritage societies, namghars, schools, cultural trusts and family associations. We'll help you start your tree and your community's list of kinship terms.
